Scant yields in 2010 and a perfect ending to a long harvest created another heroic wine from this famed vineyard block. Purple-amethyst to the rim in the glass, aromas of fig compote, currants, macadamia nuts and anise envelop the senses. The mid palate takes front stage at the moment with a vein of savoriness and finesse; it is loaded with notes of dried dark fruits, creosote, wood spice and loam. The finish is propelled from the edgy, rebellious nature this wine is known for by framing lively acidity and precision in an elegant package. Similar to the 2009 in viscosity, look for a longer ageing curve on this wine due to its deep concentration of Cabernet Sauvignon fruit.
